

The Workstation Warmer That Heats Up Productivity

One central thermostat setting is not going to please all of the people all of the time. To make offices more comfortable and productive, the WorkWarmer™ by Aztec is the ideal solution to personalized warmth. For two pennies an hour (based on local rates), these thin, lightweight wonders warm people and objects directly without having to heat the air in between.

WorkWarmer™ mounts easily out of the way to the inside of the desk well or can stand anywhere on its own feet. And because radiant heaters do not dry out the air, char particles-- or stir up dust or pollen, WorkWarmer™ will not accentuate allergies. With a surface temperature below 200°F and no exposed glowing elements, WorkWarmer™ is safe to the touch and includes an automatic tip-over switch.

Controlled with its own On/Off switch with indicator light or optional portable thermostat, WorkWarmer™ gently warms the desk area to the temperature that's most comfortable to the user. Also a great solution at home!

- Attaches to modesty panel of desk with velcro tape or can be used as portable on its own feet
- Helps eliminate constant changing of central thermostat
- Indicator light & ON / OFF Switch
- Unique crystalline surface for maximum output of gentle radiant heating
- Perfect for secretaries, bank tellers, receptionist, cashiers, teachers -- anyone who works at a desk, counter, home hobby or sewing table.

The thin, lightweight WorkWarmer™ Desk Heater turns any workstation into a personal comfort zone
